LAUNDRYMAN AN ARTISAN?

Chinese Cuff Polishers
May Plead for the Title.

Is a Chinese laundryman an artisan, mechanic, or merely a laborer? "Habeas Corpus" Brooks is of the opinion that the clothes-washing celestial is an artisan and that the legislature, in framing Act 9 which provides for the exemption of certain personal property from attachment, execution, distress and forced sale, failed to take cognizance of the important and worthy calling of the Chinese washerman and even more aristocratic polisher of cuffs, collars and shirt bosoms. The act exempts from the levying of an execution such articles as household, table and kitchen utensils which includes sewing machines, crockery, calabashes, family portraits and photographs, wearing apparel, farming implements, two oxen, two mules, one cart, "the tools or implements of a mechanic or artisan necessary to enable him to carry on his trade," and numerous other articles.

It is under the last clause that Attorney Brooks believes he can make out a good case, that is, if his client is willing to make a martyr of himself and go the pace which a test case generally calls for.

An execution was handed to the High Sheriff a few days ago to make a levy on the property of a Chinese laundryman. An officer was sent to his establishment and while he was making an observation of the property available for the levy, a horse and wagon were hurried away by the wily Chinese. The officer found nothing but the polishing irons, wash tubs and stove, and promptly attached the same. The Chinese was unable to carry on his business when these articles were carried away and consulted a lawyer. The latter looked up the law and arrived at the conclusion that a Chinese laundryman had about as much right to be called an artisan as a plasterer.

The High Sheriff, however, has the property under lock and key and guarded by a big policeman and now awaits the next move of the "habeas corpus" attorney.

NON-RESIDENTS ARE ALSO EXEMPT

Attorney General Holds That
They May Deduct $1,000
From Income.

Attorney General Dole, in an opinion to the tax assessor yesterday, holds that non-residents deriving an income from property within Hawaii, may also claim the exemption of $1,000. His opinion on the subject is as follows:

Honolulu, H. I., Aug. 6, 1902.
Mr. J. Morton Riggs, Deputy Assessor and Collector, First Taxation Division, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—I have received your letter of yesterday in which you say: "I am directed by the Collector of Taxes for this district to request your opinion as to whether Sec. 1 of the Income Tax Law permits persons residing outside of the Territory of Hawaii (but carrying on a business, trade, profession, employment or vocation in the Territory, or having an income from property owned in the Territory) to claim an exemption of $1,000."

Section 1 of Art. 20 of the Session Laws of 1901 provides that: "From and after the first day of July, A. D. 1901, there shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid annually upon the gains, profits and income, over and above one thousand dollars, derived by every person residing in the Territory of Hawaii from all property owned, and every business, trade, profession, employment or vocation carried on in the Territory, and by every person residing without the Territory from all property owned, and every business, trade, profession, employment or vocation carried on in the Territory, and by every servant, or officer, of the Territory wherever residing, a tax of two per cent on the amount so derived during the year preceding."

I think a just and reasonable construction of the above section puts non-residents on the same footing with residents, so far as the exemption of $1,000 is concerned.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) E. P. DOLE,
Attorney General.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKS DISCUSSED AT NORMAL

A Committee Headed by Prof. Edgar Wood
Appointed Yesterday to Investigate.
Mrs. Whitney Talks.

WHEN the public schools of Honolulu resume their sessions during the coming month one of the newest features of education to be introduced may be that of the School Savings Bank now being successfully conducted in a number of the largest cities on the mainland. A committee of teachers was appointed at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Normal School which will go over the situation before the opening of the schools, and it is believed they will report favorably on the scheme, which will have an important bearing on the approval of the Board of Education. The committee consists of Prof. Edgar Wood, chairman; Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Heapy and Miss Nina Adams. Mrs. Jordan, of the Board of Education, has consented to meet with the committee and represent the official side of the investigation. In case the scheme meets with the favorable consideration of the committee, the latter will probably recommend the distribution of literature bearing on the subject to all the public school teachers in the Territory.

The question was brought up in the Normal School yesterday by Mrs. J. M. Whitney, president of the W. C. T. U., who read a paper regarding the scheme and distributed literature to those present. She also exhibited the small envelopes and deposit books in use on the mainland. On the inside is printed the year, month and dates, deposits being made only once a week. The regulations on the back are as follows: "Deposits will be received every Monday only, at the morning session, by the teachers of each school. The amount will be delivered to the principal who will deposit it in the Savings Bank in the name of each depositor. One cent or upward can be received by the teacher. When a pupil has a deposit of $1 or more, a bank book will be given, free of charge, from the bank."

Considerable enthusiasm over the

"TERRORS OF CHINATOWN"

McDuffie and Renear
Make War on Gamblers.

Detectives McDuffie and Renear are acquiring the title of the "Chinatown Terrors," both doing some clever work in the breaking up of gambling dens and illicit liquor selling joints, and yesterday they added to their long list of arrests by successfully raiding two gambling dens, one conducted by Chinese and the other by Japanese. In both places hard fights were put up by the inmates, and Renear came out of the raids with a bruised right hand, acquired in a set-to with a powerfully-built Japanese.

The first raid was made about 3 o'clock in a Chinese house on Beretania street near its junction with King. Both detectives made a successful entry, without their presence being discovered until they were actually in the room. The alarm was sounded, every avenue of escape was sought, principally the windows, and the Chinese tumbled out of them by the half dozen at a time. The detectives, however, rounded up nineteen and sent them to the station in the patrol wagon.

Ten minutes later they surprised a gang of Japanese gamblers in the second story of a Japanese house back of King street and close to the building which was on fire a few nights ago. The room was full of the little brown men but before the detectives could lay their hands on them fully a dozen had leaped from the windows, none being hurt. Six who were cornered put up a brisk fight and both officers were put to the test to arrest them. Renear engaged with the most athletic Jap in the crowd, and had to use his fists to subdue him.

McDuffie, standing about six feet two in his stockings and built in proportion, gathered in three or four others after swinging about him for a few seconds.

ASSAULT CASES BEFORE GEAR

Enoch Johnson, Jr., is Acquitted and Ioela Gets Four Months in Prison.

The jury in the case of Territory of Hawaii vs. Enoch Johnson Jr. and Joe Ioela, charged with assault and battery, returned a verdict of guilty as to the latter defendant and of acquittal as to Johnson. Judge Gear pronounced sentence of four months' imprisonment in Oahu prison upon Ioela, who is also to pay the costs.

The trial of William Schneider charged with assault was then taken up, and after the impanelling of the jury, was continued until this morning at 10 o'clock. Schneider is alleged to have assaulted a resident of Waiwala, and the witnesses are from that place. Sam Parker is on the trial jury.

COURT NOTES.

A demurrer has been filed by James McKee to the suit of the Queen's Hospital vs. Walkiki Land and Loan Association et al., in which McKee is made a defendant. Defendant alleges that he is not properly a party to the suit, and that the complaint was not signed by an attorney.

In the case of George W. Macfarlane vs. Robert Catton a demand for admissions was made yesterday, a refusal of which will necessitate the sending of a commission to England.

An appraisalment of the estate of Wm. Thompson was filed yesterday, showing the property to be worth $4,851.25.

T. I. Dillon, master, has approved the accounts of W. O. Smith in the matter of the estate of the Gay minors.

Sentence of Pedro Rodriguez was postponed yesterday until Monday.

The jury in the case of Kaha, charged with malicious injury, returned a verdict of acquittal.

Killed by a Steer.

TULSA, A. T., July 15.—A Creek Indian boy, Charles Mingo, was found dead early today securely fixed on the horns of a wild Texas steer. He had evidently been there all night. When found the steer was trying to dislodge the boy by rubbing against the banks of a small ravine in which the animal was standing completely tired out from an all night's run. The other cattle were standing about him greatly excited. The steer was immediately shot and the body taken from its horns. The boy was terribly mangled and bruised by the horns, one of which ran clear through the body.

The boy was seen last night playing on Coal Creek in the Forsythe pasture, and it is supposed he was lost and wandered among the cattle during the night. The mother is distracted over the affair.
